WAR BETWEEN FRANCE MAP OF THE SEAT OF AND

... In view of the deep interest attached to the European War, more especially from the complications likely to arise from it; we present our readers with a Map of the Seat of .War, which will enable them to trace the movements of the forces as reported from time to time.

The River Rhine, which, with its tributary the Moselle, form the scene of the contentions, rises in the Mountains of Switzerland, touches the eastern boundary of France at Basle, flowing along past the city of Strasburg to Carlsuthe. At this point it enters German territory, flowing nearly south to a point a few miles north of Emmerich; thereof it runs nearly east through Holland into the German Ocean. Near Carlstude, the French line leaves the Rhino, and runs across the continent a little north of east into the English Channel. At Luxembourg, another dividing line occurs, along the west side of Belgium, running nearly due north to the Rhine, helow Emmerich.

A right line drawn from Carlsrube to Emmerich, passes through that portion of Rhenish Prussis lying on the left bank of the Rhine, (in speaking of the left and right banks of a river you are always supposed to be looking down the stream), giving its length as 320 miles, with an average widh of 55 miles. It is in this region that the tig of war has commenced. This incritory, owned by Prussis, his long been coreted by France, who looks upon the Rhine as her natural boundary on the East. The forces of either power are being concentrated in this neighborhood, and about Metz, which forms the last fortified outpost of France on the North East.

BELLEVILLE, TUESDAY, AUG. 93.

OBTTIME BRITER.—We are pleased to sarn that the boy Roche was less seriously sjured than was yesterday reported, and is ow in a fair way of recovery.

ARRORR.—Capt. Filiatreault, of the barge Dafance, just arrived from Oswago, reports that the tug 'Maris Mellvin,' wentshore with a schooser in tow, on Saturday morning, 20th mat., at Oswego. Total loss of both. The craws were saved.

THE PULLMAN CAR.—The first of the Pullman care built by the Grand Trunk Railway Company, called the "Montrack", passed west by this morning's express. The rain comprised eight care, all being filled, including the Pullman. We believe the "Montrach" will return cast tonight with the Illinois Press Association.

THE SMORE AND THE STRAMPAS.—The dense smore from the leaful fires near Ottawe has suspended navigation on the St. Lawronce. On Tuesday the two morning boats, the Corenthian and Abyasinion, had to lie all day at the whaff in Kingston, unable togo down the river for the smokemed worse that any fox. Both these steamers were loaded with pleasure travellers, and as they could not proceed the thirty voyage down the river, they had to be depathed to Montreal by train. Both boats laid in Kingston until night, and then went up the lake again.

Firks at Ortrwa.—The fires have raged almost throughout all the woods in the County of Sarletto. The township of Gallettone has been devarated, and nearly all the dwelling destroyed. The town of Ashton was only saved by making a sap in the adjacent burning forests by cutting down the trees. The Relate Committee at Ottawa have aiready, received $8,000 in cash to add the sufferent by the fires. The greates activity prevails, and nobody will be permitted to suffer from west of food or clothing. Floar, port, blankets, tea and tumber to erect temporary buildings to protect the houseless families from cold, are being supplied.
